

A man in a safety vest stands in a warehouse aisle filled with pipes. The scene is dimly lit, with light coming from the end of the aisle. The man is looking towards the camera. The pipes are stacked high on both sides of the aisle.

WHATEVER INDUSTRY YOU'RE IN WE'VE GOT YOU COVERED

Boshart has been developing Pro Certified products since 1955. With this history of proven quality and service, there is no better partner for your Plumbing and Water Well accessories. The reason we pride ourselves on consistently delivering the quality you need is because we have been there.

Our founders, Mel and Gary, began their pursuit for this standard back when they were pump installers in the 1950's. With their understanding of the pain that occurs when products fail, they developed a culture of continually delivering product standards to support Pro Contractors all around North America.
